

Call for Papers

17th International Conference of Australian Studies in China (2020)

Australia and the Global Community

10 - 12 July 2020, Harbin, China

The School of International Studies of Harbin Institute of Technology and Chinese Association for Australian Studies welcome scholars of Australian studies at home and abroad to attend the 17th International Conference of Australian Studies in China (ICASC 2020) to be held in Harbin, China on 10 - 12 July 2020.

The ICASC 2020 offers the international community of scholars an opportunity to demonstrate the relevance and value of research to the world and aims to provide a platform to provoke debates, stimulate discussions, and share ideas and research findings among scholars of Australian studies in China, Australia and other parts of the world.

The theme of the Conference is Australia and the Global Community. Sub-themes include Australian international relations, the history and the future of Australia, Australia and Asia, sociocultural studies in Australia, intercultural studies in Australia, eco-environment in Australia, media in Australia, science and technology in Australia, Australian economy, Australian education, Australian literature and arts, language teaching and research in Australia, and other related topics.

The Conference fees are CNY800 each (half fees for postgraduate students). Participants will cover their own transport and accommodation. Speakers who intend to present their papers in Chinese should provide abstracts and PPT slides in English.

Conference agenda: 10 July, arrival and registration; 11-12 July, conference; 13 July, departure.
